6. Evaluation system and requirements

6.1. The academic achievements of higher education applicants based on the results of the completion of the course will be evaluated on the scale below:

Rating	Institutional
90 – 100	Excellent
74 – 89	Good
60 – 73	Satisfactory
0 – 59	Fail

The general criteria for achieving the learning outcomes correspond to the descriptions of the 6th qualification level of the NQF.

6.2. Applicants for higher education can receive a final grade in this course based on the formative assessment of their knowledge, provided that the total number of points gained from the formative testing and individual work is at least 60 points.

The formative academic performance consists of grades for work in practical classes (5 classes are evaluated, participation in a class can bring a maximum of 10 points to a higher education student). The points received in practical and points for independent work (maximum 20 points) are added to the grade for the final (test) work at the end of the semester (30 points) and are the final grade for the course. A higher education student can score a maximum of 100 points for formative assessments.

6.3. Criteria for evaluating the final work. If a higher education applicant has received less than 60 points in the formative academic assessment and / or seeks to improve the grade, a summative assessment (differentiated test) is conducted during the week of control activities.

The differentiated test is conducted in the form of complex control work which includes questions from the theoretical and practical parts of the course and consist of 20 test questions. A correct answer to a test question is worth 5 points. The maximum number of points for a differentiated test: 100 points.

6.4. Grading criteria for practical work:

5 practical sessions are evaluated with a maximum of 10 points each, with:

- 10 points – compliance with the standard, providing examples from additional literature;
- 8 points – compliance with the standard, correct language of presentation of the material;
- 6 points – compliance with the standard, errors in grammar and/or spelling;
- 4 points – the content of the answer is relevant to the subject of the question, but does not meet the standard, contains significant grammatical and spelling errors that make it difficult to understand the text or distort the meaning of the message;
- 2 points – a textual answer that does not meet the standard and/or is not relevant to the subject matter of the question, contains significant grammatical and spelling errors that make it difficult to understand the text or distort the meaning of the message;
- 0 points - no answer.

7. Course policy

7.1. Policy on academic integrity. The academic integrity of higher education applicants is an important condition for mastering the learning outcomes of the course and obtaining satisfactory grades in formative and summative assessments. Academic integrity is based on the condemnation of the practices of cheating (writing with the involvement of external sources of information other than those authorized for use), plagiarism (reproduction of published texts of other authors without proper attribution), fabrication (inventing data or facts used in the educational process). The policy on academic integrity is regulated by the Regulation on system of prevention and detection of plagiarism at the Dnipro University of Technology (https://www.nmu.org.ua/ua/content/activity/us_documents.pdf)

If a higher education applicant violates academic integrity (cheating, plagiarism, fabrication), the assignment is graded unsatisfactory and must be repeated. In this case, the instructor reserves the right to change the topic of the assignment.

7.2. Communication policy. Applicants for higher education must have an activated corporate university email.

All written questions to the instructors regarding the course should be sent to the university email.

7.3. Policy on retakes. Assignments that are submitted late without valid reasons will be evaluated at a lower grade. Retakes of the summative assessment are allowed with the permission of the dean's office if there are valid reasons (e.g., sick leave).

7.4. Class attendance. Attendance at classes is mandatory for full-time applicants for higher education. Valid reasons for absence from classes are illness, participation in university events, and academic mobility, which must be confirmed by documents. A higher education applicant must notify the instructor either personally or through the leader of the academic group about the absence from class and the reasons for the absence.

If a course learner is ill, it is recommended that he or she stays at home and studies in the E-learning platform of DniproTech. Learners whose health condition is unsatisfactory and may affect the health of others will be asked to leave the class (such absence will be considered as an absence due to illness).

Practical classes are not repeated; these activities cannot be completed during the consultation.

For objective reasons (e.g. international mobility), studies may take place online with the consent of the course instructor.

7.5 Evaluation appeal policy. If a higher education applicant does not agree with the evaluation of his/her knowledge, he/she may appeal the grade assigned by the instructor in a prescribed manner.

7.6. Bonuses. Students who regularly attended lectures (have no more than two passes without good reason) and have a written syllabus of lectures receive an additional 2 points to the results of the assessment to the final grade.

7.7. Participation in the survey. Upon completion of the course and before the start of the examination period, the applicant for higher education will be asked to anonymously fill out electronic questionnaires (Microsoft Forms Office 365), which will be sent to your university mailboxes. Filling out the questionnaires is an important component of your learning activity, which will allow us to evaluate the effectiveness of the applied teaching methods and consider your suggestions for improving the content of the course "Law".
